A Guide to Conducting a Pageant/Selection Process at Your Facility

The first step to participating in the Ms. Alabama Nursing Home Pageant is selecting a lady to represent your facility. The person selected must meet the “Contestant Criteria & Guidelines” found on page 5 of this booklet.

Facilities may use several methods for selecting a participant for the Ms. Alabama Nursing Home Pageant. Some examples include: a facility holding a local pageant, residents and others selecting a representative from those interested, or use another method. When and if your facility makes the decision to enter a contestant into the statewide pageant, the selection process is strictly at the discretion of the facility.

If your facility would like to hold a pageant to select a contestant for the Ms. Alabama Nursing Home Pageant, pages 8-12 will offer a guide to help you plan and conduct the event.

If your facility wants to use a selection process, more information can be found on page 13-14.
Tips for Conducting Your Local Facility Pageant

The following information is a guide to aid you in setting up and conducting your local pageant. Please remember this is only a guide. How you conduct your pageant and/or make your selection is strictly at the discretion of the facility.

Select a Sponsoring Service Group: Contact local civic and professional groups to sponsor your pageant. Invite a senior citizen group and/or a local youth group to help. When the sponsoring service group has been selected, ask one member to be appointed as chairman. This will provide your activity coordinator with an able ally who can share in all of the many details associated with conducting a pageant.

Select a Pageant Committee: The pageant committee is responsible for executing all aspects of the pageant. Each committee member should be assigned a specific duty, and then you should coordinate with them on completing their duties. This committee may include volunteers, your administrator, activity director, the food service supervisor, or other nursing home staff. Because this should be an event which is publicized, please also remember to include your local media.

The pageant committee’s responsibilities can include arranging for the following:

Contestant Selection – The committee must establish the process by which contestants are selected. Nominations for contestants can be requested from residents, staff, family, friends, volunteers, etc. When all of your nominations have been received, the pageant committee should select the pageant’s contestants. It is suggested that no fewer than five and no more than ten contestants be selected in order to hold an effective and orderly pageant. This number can be managed easily in a period of time which will not make your pageant too long. A suggested outline for developing nomination ballots is enclosed.

Contestant Logistics: All facilities wishing to enter a contestant in the statewide pageant should plan to hold their local pageants in plenty of time to prepare the written entry, video interview and photographs which are required for statewide entries. To be eligible for participation in the 2014 Ms. ANH Pageant, all statewide pageant entries must be received by the ANHA on or before Friday, May 30, 2014.

Master of Ceremonies: When determining who your emcee will be, select someone who can hold the attention of the audience and interview the contestants. Remember, a good emcee can make or break your pageant. Derive questions from the biography of each contestant and write sample questions for the emcee. Talk to your contestants and create questions from what she tells you. Some sample questions that your emcee might ask are as follows:

- What is the most beautiful sight which you have ever seen?
- What gives you the greatest pleasure in your life today?
- What do you think is the key to a long and happy life?
- What is the most exciting experience you’ve had in your life?

Escorts: Contestants will need an escort. This can be handled in one of two ways: You have one or two persons who act as the escort for all contestants, or each contestant can have her own escort. Male residents can be involved in the pageant by acting as escorts. If this is not feasible, however, you can select as escorts family members, members of the sponsoring organization, staff members or local officials/politicians.

Contestants’ Attire: A long dress or Sunday dress is the most appropriate for the occasion.

Refreshments: Refreshments can add much to your local pageant festivities. Church groups often agree to provide the refreshments. Music and/or entertainment will also add a special touch to your pageant.

Promotion and Publicity: Notify local churches, civic groups and local media contacts of the event. Ask them to participate in any manner they can, and be ready with involvement suggestions for them. Arrange for news coverage of the event (NOTE: Your media representative on your pageant committee can assist you in this area), and send out advance press releases (see attached Advance Press Release). If possible, have a program printed for your pageant. After the pageant has been held, work with your local media on publicizing the results and send out follow-up releases to those media sources that were not able to attend or cover the event (see attached Follow-Up Press Release).

Judging: Judges should come from the local community. Try to get local officials, celebrities, or prominent citizens to act as your judges. In order to avoid a tie in reaching a decision, try to select an odd number of judges. On page 10 is a sample letter which can be used in inviting your selected individuals to serve as judges for your facility’s local pageant. By contacting your judges and having them arrive early, you will be able to brief them in advance on the judging criteria which will be used in your pageant.

An example of a local pageant judging sheet is on page 9. Suggestions for personal interview questions are on page 11.

Judging Criteria: Individual facilities may use their own judging criteria. However, facilities are encouraged to use the statewide pageant “Judging Criteria” on page 5.

Selection Process: A winner, a first and a second runner up should be selected in order to assure a representative to the state pageant. The winner should be both mentally and physically capable of traveling to Birmingham, either to participate in the Honor Court or as a finalist, as the case may be.

Flowers and Prizes: The winner should receive an appropriate gift such as a plaque and flowers. Each contestant should receive a corsage. Gifts should be given to the winner and runners-up. Sponsors may wish to provide contestants with small gifts of equal value.

Your facility must submit a complete entry packet for your contestant by Friday, May 30, 2014.

There are two different contestant entry categories for the Ms. Alabama Nursing Home Pageant:

   - B. Please complete the “Official Pageant Entry Form” on pages 26-33.

2. Honor Court Only: complete this form if you want your contestant to be included in the pageant day festivities, but not considered for the title of Ms. Alabama Nursing Home.
   - A. Please complete the “Honor Court Only” form on page 34.
Pageant Entry Guidelines

Your contestant’s complete entry packet must be received by Friday, May 30, 2014, for your contestant to be considered for the title of Ms. Alabama Nursing Home 2014.

It is very important that your contestant’s entry packet be well thought-out, complete and personable. This is the only information the preliminary judges have about your contestant as they select the Top Ten Finalists. Therefore, the style, completion and content of the information which you provide are critical.

Items for the Entry Packet:
1. Six (6) copies of your complete Official Pageant Entry Form (pages 26-32)
2. Six (6) recent color photos of your contestant
3. A 3-4 minute video interview of your contestant: VHS, DVD or computer video files only

Details of Items that Must be Included in the Pageant Entry

1. Six (6) copies of your complete Official Pageant Entry Form (pages 26-32)
   Tips: As the “ghost-writer” for your local winner, you have a two-fold job: First, you must answer the questions asked as comprehensively as possible. Second, and most importantly, you must reflect as much of the personality of your contestant as possible with the answers you provide. Before you begin writing, think through the pageant’s purpose and objectives (see page 4). The judges will be looking for the lady who will best fulfill these objectives. You are urged to document all activities, hobbies, interests and attitudes of your contestant. Describe her in full detail – using as many of her own words and phrases as possible. The more complete the description, the better evaluation the judges can make. You are limited to no more than 10 total pages for the contestant registration form and entry.

2. Six (6) recent color photos of your contestant. Each facility entering a contestant in the pageant is to submit six (6) recent photos of its contestant. Please do not have any other person in the photo. The photos should be fairly close, head-and-shoulder shots. The photos submitted should be in one of the following sizes. 3”x3”, 3”x5”, 4”x5” or 4”x6”.
   Tips: An original photograph will be included in each of the preliminary and celebrity judging packets for review during the judging process. Remember, 20% of the judging process is on “Personality and Physical Appearance in relation to age.” The photograph will provide our preliminary judges with your contestant’s physical appearance in relation to age. Try to submit the best, happiest photos possible.

NOTE: PLEASE DO NOT SEND IN VALUABLE PHOTOGRAPHS! All facilities should realize that all but one (1) of the photographs will be returned to contestants who are members of the Honor Court. However, contestants who are members of the Top Ten WILL NOT have ANY of their photographs returned. Please do not send valuable or sentimental photographs!!! Also remember that this photograph will be used in the program. Please make sure that you use colors that are attractive to your contestant and that you pay attention to lighting and the color of the background. For example, do not have a light skin tone resident against a white background or a dark skin tone resident against a black background or a white haired resident against a white background.

3. A 3-4 minute Video Interview of your contestant – VHS, DVD or computer video files only. The purpose of this video is to give the preliminary judges an opportunity to “meet” your contestant and hear her talk and communicate. This videotape is to serve as your contestant’s preliminary “personal” interview. Videos must be VHS, DVD or computer video files only. No other formats will be accepted! We do not have the capability to view any other types of tapes, i.e., digital tapes. Please make sure you rewind your tape and that you preview it before sending! Also, be sure the VHS tape, DVD or computer video file is packaged so it will arrive safely. Keep a copy of your video so you can send a replacement copy if the original is damaged in shipping.
Tips for Producing Your Contestant’s Video

- Let Your Contestant Do the Talking
  The purpose of the video is to let the judges hear about and FROM your contestant. Let her be the star. Your job is to make her feel comfortable, ask questions and talk to her in a conversational style (example: “Mrs. Jones, I hear you used to go dancing a lot. Tell me about those times.”) Your only role in the video is to ask her leading questions, and then stay in the background. The judges do not want to hear YOU tell about her, they would like to hear her talk and converse! Remember to look at the judging criteria (see page 6)-this is what the judges will be basing their scores on, so if they cannot determine any of the elements during your video, then your contestant will not do so well.

- Keep the video short – and stick to the subject
  The judges do not want a 5-minute lead in on your facility, where it’s located, and how many beds and employees you have. They want to hear your contestant – her voice, comments and personality. Look at the judging criteria, and keep it in mind when you do her video.

- This should be a videotaped interview of your contestant… NOT a copy of your entire facility pageant
  Remember – we only need a 3-4 minute videotaped interview with your contestant. It serves absolutely no purpose for you to send in a video which is 30 minutes in duration, and which we have to fast forward through to try and find your contestant.

- As much as possible, try to eliminate distracting background noise
  If you tape outside next to a major highway, we may not be able to hear your contestant. All we can hear are the cars going by in the background. If you tape inside, please try to work around the P.A. system. If your contestant’s comments are covered up by a call for someone to “come to 3 West”, it is distracting, and ineffective. Also, please think very seriously about NOT having background music dubbed into your videotape. From our experiences, the music only serves to distract from what the resident is saying, and adds nothing to the judging process.

- Consider asking the contestant a little about herself, her hobbies/likes, or even set up the videotaped session in the resident’s room and have her tell about herself; show some of the things she’s done as she talks about them, etc.
  Remember – the best videotapes will be those in which the resident feels comfortable and converses. Tape in a place of the resident’s choice…where SHE will be comfortable.

- Do not repeat the questions asked on the entry form
  The judge’s have already read that information. Encourage the individual to talk about her life in the nursing home. A Suggestion: Ask as one of your questions “What would you like to tell other people about living in a nursing home?” or some variation of this. The judges like to hear the contestants answer this question. And just converse with your resident…let her personality shine.
• Don’t write a script for the contestant to read
  This is very obvious when it happens. We don’t want the contestant to be a parrot…we want to hear what she has to say. Remember….the judges are looking for her expressiveness, attitude, poise & appearance, ability to communicate clearly and the quality of her answer. The best answers come from the contestant’s heart.

• Professionally Produced Videos – Help or Drawback?
  Some of the most impressive videos we have received, have been professionally produced.
  However – they have not necessarily been some of the most effective videos we have received.
  The judges want to hear the contestants talk…they want to get a “glimpse” of her personality, the way they deal with other people, and how well adjusted and comfortable they are in the nursing home setting. When you produce a “slick” video in which a professional does all of the talking from a prepared script, it loses its effectiveness. Many of the professionally produced videos don’t even let the contestant talk until 3-4 minutes into the video. That’s not what the judges are looking for! The judges want to hear your contestant.

• Make Sure Your Video Is Not Blank
  We have often had a difficult time trying to find the contestant on the videotape. We have even viewed blank tapes. Please make sure that you check the video for quality prior to sending it to ANHA. Also, please rewind the tape so that we start at the beginning. Also, it is imperative that you label the video with the name of the contestant and facility as well as the video container itself.
